

Kobe Bryant

Kobe Bryant was an American basketball player who played for the Los Angeles Lakers. Kobe had a very successful basketball career and earned lots of awards.

Early Life

Kobe Bean Bryant was born on the 23rd August 1978. His parents were called Joe Bryant and Pamela Bryant. His father was a famous basketball player. Kobe's middle name 'Bean' came from his father's nickname, which was 'Jellybean'.

When Kobe was six years old, his family moved to Italy and he learnt how to speak Italian. When he was 13, the family moved back to the United States and Kobe began playing basketball at school. Kobe's school team went on to win the state championship. This was the first time that they had won it in a long time.

A Career in Basketball

At the age of 17, Kobe left school and followed his dream of becoming a professional basketball player. A few months after his 18th birthday, Kobe joined the Los Angeles Lakers (LA Lakers) – a team that he supported as a young boy. This meant that Kobe was the youngest player in the National Basketball Association's (NBA) history.

Kobe spent the next 20 years playing for the LA Lakers and mainly played as the shooting guard. The shooting guard's job is to score as many points as possible for their team by shooting the ball through the hoop. Shooting guards are often very tall. Being tall means that it can be easier to score from far away. Kobe was just under 2 metres tall, which is the average height of a door in the UK!

Kobe continued to play basketball for 20 seasons before deciding to retire from the sport in 2016. In total, Kobe played in over 1,000 basketball games over 20 years.

Achievements

Kobe achieved lots throughout his career. The table below shows just a few of these achievements.

Year	Achievement
2006	Kobe scored 81 points in a single game of basketball. This is the second-highest score ever recorded!
2008 and 2012	Kobe and the rest of the United States basketball team won a gold medal at both the 2008 and the 2012 Olympics.
2018	After retiring from basketball, Kobe won an award for his five minute long film named 'Dear Basketball'.

Dear Basketball

In 2017, Kobe Bryant wrote and narrated a short film called 'Dear Basketball'. The film was animated with hand-drawn pictures of Kobe and was based on a letter that he wrote. The letter said that he planned to retire from playing basketball. At the beginning of the film, Kobe talks about himself as a child who pretended to play basketball using rolled up socks and a bin.

After showing animations of Kobe playing the game, the film ends with him announcing his retirement. He explains that his body knew when it was time to stop and that he had reached that point.

When it was released, the short film was watched by thousands of people. It then went on to earn lots of awards at several different events.
